DISCUSSION

- FOOD TRUCKS

With the rise of food trucks in the area, questions have started coming in to the Building Inspector office about licensing, how they are managed, and how they are inspected. All food trucks are required to have a license. Food trucks operating in Tennessee are supposed to have a permit, but if the business license is held in a county other than Trousdale, that is where the sales tax goes. Currently, Trousdale County does not have any regulations for food trucks. Rosalie was tasked with working with Jerry with GNRC to come up with an outline for regulations for food trucks to bring to the next meeting for the Planning Commission members to review.
